Mrs. Smith Against Award For Engelhardt Mayor Addonizio Announces $Six Million Anti-Poverty Program For City Of Newark

For Honoring NCCJ Denounced Engelhart, Jr.

WENONAH, N.J.—The New Jersey State Conference of NAA CP Branches, in accord with our national policy on apartheid in South Africa, is shocked to learn that the New Jersey Region of the National Conference of Christians and Jews (NCCJ), has named Charles W. Engelhart Jr., as one of the recipients of its 1966 "Brotherhood Awards," declared Mrs. Smith, state president, NAACP.

Mr. Engelhart, through his financial involvement in South Africa, is contributing to a rigid system of apartheid which permits 11 million Africans to be controlled by 3 million Europeans. Mr. Engelhart as chairman of the Rand Mines Organization, has direct control of nearly 15 per cent of the South African gold production and almost 20 per cent of the uranium production. He is director of the two organizations which recruit black labor for the gold mines. It is the Chamber of Mines, of which Mr. Engelhart is a director, that sets the wages as well as the working and living conditions for the South Africans in the mining industry. The wage

Dr. Scott, Four Others Resign Community Group

Lack of a new site for Friendship House, money for same and legal technicalities and inactivity seem to have brought about resignations of four trustees.

The four who resigned last Friday are Dr. Harold R. Scott, president; Edward Strubridge, treasurer; the Rev. Richard H. Schoolmaster, secretary, and Dr. Benjamin E. Sheekelford, board member.

The trustees have been waiting since September for funds and/or a new site. The building is in the path of the East-West Freeway. The City Council had created by ordinance the Friendship House Community Center whose incorporation papers were filed August 31 in the county clerk's office. The trustees, in a letter to Council President Charles Franklin, said "As of this writing we have been unable to make any progress in actually taking over the operation of Friendship House."

What prompted the letter was a rendering by Assistant City Attorney John Monica to the effect that the ordinance establishing the center is illegal. State law prohibits the transfer of city property or funds to private corporations.

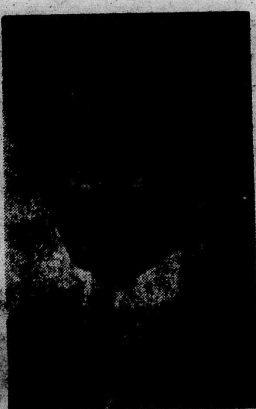

Councilman Ambrose Hardwick said that he didn't blame

Payne Endorsed, Harris Is Asked To Withdraw

NEWARK—William L. Payne, candidate for South Ward Councilman displayed surprising strength at a meeting here last Sunday sponsored by the Old Pros, civic organization long identified in the community life of the South Ward, when he won unanimous endorsement by the Pros over Republican Freeholder Earl Harris, as Candidate for Councilman for the South Ward.

Henry Terry who is president of the Old Pros hailed the endorsement of Payne by the organization as a sign of renewed and new thinking on the part of

Bernstein Asks Harris Resign As Freeholder

NEWARK — Councilman Lee Bernstein called upon Freeholder Earl Harris to resign as Essex County Freeholder in a statement here Monday.

Bernstein said, "Harris is a fraud upon the intelligence of the people of the South Ward and of the whole county. He was elected as a Freeholder to represent the people and he has failed to attend Freeholder meetings. The latest example of his lack of concern is his failure to appear at the last two meetings of the Board of Freeholders at which time the budget was introduced, and just recently when the record breaking budget totaling over 60 million dollars was passed."

"The people of Essex County pay Mr. Harris $10,000 a year to represent them, and the least he

Court Tells Ala. Jury Panels To Include Negroes

MONTGOMERY, Ala. — A three-judge panel at Montgomery ordered two weeks ago that the Loundes County Jury Commission to destroy its present jury roll, compiled almost exclusively from all-white voter lists, and to draw up a new one without regard to race.

This Federal Court decision may put Negroes on the juries that will try two members of the Ku Klux Klan for the murder of Mrs. Viola Greeg Liuzzo.

If the commission fails, the court said, special masters will be appointed to do the job.

The new jury roll is to be in use before the Lowndes County Circuit Court begins its spring term in April. The most spectacular business of the spring term will be the trials of William Orville Eaton and Eugene Thomas, members of the United Klans of America from the Birmingham area charged in the murder of Mrs. Liuzzo, a Detroit civil rights

Newark Prepares To Lift Poor Out Of Poverty

NEWARK — Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio held what his aides termed one of the most important press conferences during his administration as the chief executive of Newark here Monday when he announced that the United States Department of Labor had approved federal grants of $6.7 million to finance 19 Neighborhood Youth Corps and Manpower Development and Training projects in the city.

The Mayor said that the proposed programs would strike at the heart of one of this city's fundamental problems—the problem of unemployment and underemployment.

groundwork. Johnson's own personality has accomplished more for our own people than any President since Lincoln," Bishop Perry says in his published statement.

As to his own role in the civil rights movement it was pointed out, "As a priest he did not participate in civil rights demonstrations and does not expect to do so as a bishop."

"My appointment is a religious one, not a civil rights appointment," Bishop Perry explains. "My religious work comes first. I have no desire to work directly as a civil rights leader. My past history shows that I have spoken out in favor of civil rights, that I am a foe of all feebleness that the greatest contribution I can make to raise the dignity of my people is being a good religious bishop and fulfilling my office to the utmost of my ability," he added.

Dr. Blake Heads World Council Of Churches

GENEVA — The Rev. Dr. Eugene Carson Blake, a strong proponent of Christian unity, Negro rights and Viet Nam peace negotiations, was elected head of the World Council of Churches negotiations was elected head of last Friday.

Dr. Blake, author of a plan now under consideration to unite several American Protestant faiths, directed his first words after his election to the Protestant-Catholic unity moves.

"The primary thing is the movement under God for the unity and renewal of the church for its mission," Dr. Blake told the 100-member, policy-making Central Committee of the Council that elected him.

"This mission includes a ministry of reconciliation not only of God and man, of confessional and church divisions but also a reconciliation across all the divisions of our world—divisions caused by geography, culture, race, poverty, affluence, ideology, sin and fear which, unless reconciled by the Gospel, will prevent world peace and ever threaten world disaster."

Stated Clerk (executive head) of the United Presbyterian Church in America since 1951, Dr. Blake will become general secretary of the World Council, succeeding Dr. W. A. Visser't Hooft. A Hollander, Dr. Visser't Hooft is retiring after heading the Council since it was founded 18 years ago.

IMPORTANT POST

With ecumenism in the air, the position accepted last week by the unpretentious, hale and hearty Eugene Carson Blake is more important than ever.

Contrary to some understandings, Dr. Blake is not now the "Protestant Pope" or even a rough facsimile. In the first place, the Pope is the head of only one church. Dr. Blake will be the chief executive of an organization composed of 214 churches, differing in organization, doctrine, liturgy, etc., not all of them Protestant.

The World Council is not a super-church, nor does it have any ambitions to be anything more than a correlating agency. It does not even conceive of itself as an ecclesiastical organization but as a membership body made up of independent Christian churches joined together for limited purposes.

Finally, Dr. Blake in his new post will not have anything like episcopal or patriarchal or papal authority. He will be accountable to the ruling central committee of the World Council and to the membership of the council.

Dr. Blake, 59, lives in New Canaan, Conn., with his wife, Valina. He obtained both his bachelor's and doctor of divinity degrees from Princeton, where as an undergraduate the 6-foot broad shouldered Dr. Blake once played guard on the football team. He was born in St. Louis. Dr. Blake was once jailed for participating in a civil rights demonstration.

Mayor Addonizio said again in his statement, "The youth corps, working closely with Youth Opportunity Centers, provide a beginning, a staging area. The institutional training is a logical follow-through, a place where new skills can be learned to match the jobs of today and tomorrow. Here is where the jobs are provided to those with the requisite skills. For if we are to provide hope through training, then we must provide fulfillment through new jobs."

The program calls for a $683,000 grant going to the Neighborhood Youth Corps, which will be funded through the city's United Community Corporation. Journalism.

Among those who will be heard on the program are: Harold Ashby, Esquire, President, Newark Board of Education, Mrs. Mary B. Burch, Founder & Director of The Leaguers, Inc. James Churchman, Jr., Mortician and Scout Leader, James Fultz, Proprietor of Owl Club, Dr. Jonathan Gibbs, President, Bethune S & L Association; Charles Whigham, Mortician and Business Leader; Mrs. Nellie Grier, Royal Grand Matron, O.E.S.; Miss Bernice Maxwell, "Star Ledger" Newspaperwoman; Bill Mercer, Co-ordinator of BIC; Mrs. Emily Miles, Director of Belle Meade Models; Mrs. Mae T. Muldrow, Proprietor, La Vogue Beauty Center; Lew Perkins, Community Relations, Former Football Star; Mrs. Florence Reed, Essex County P.T.A.; Emmet E. Spurlock, Sr., Department of Law & Safety; Herbert Tate, Esquire, Former N.J. Assemblyman; Mrs. Connie Morris Woodruff, Union Worker, Civic Leader;

Entertainment by: Mrs. Carletta J. Ryan's Musical Students (Vocal and Instrumental) St. James A.M.E. Church Choir, Tal Talbot, "The Negro Revolution in Symphony" — An Original Composition, Mrs. Sally Bey, Dramatic Readings from famous Negro Authors, Kenneth Pendleton, Surprise Act, Mrs. Peggy Bowman, Organist.

One of the highlights of the program will be the presence of three senior citizens namely: Mrs. Theodocia Jenkins, Mrs. Annie L. Brown and Mrs. Mary Tucker. The public is invited to attend.

Mayor Addonizio Heard At Saint James Banquet

NEWARK — More than 500 persons were in attendance last Sunday evening on the occasion of the Annual Allen's Aay Banquet sponsored by St. James A. M. E. Church in the Grand Ball Room of Military Park Hotel this city, in which Mayor Hugh J. Addonizio was one of the principal speakers. The Mayor was introduced by Mrs. Larrrie West Stalks, president of American Negro Assembly.

"As Mayor of Newark, I feel proud of St. James, the largest A. M. E. church in our state with more than 2,200 members. A church that has been a part of this great city for more than 200 years," he said.

The Mayor praised Dr. Eustace L. Blake, minister of St. James for his contribution not only in the field of religion but in the community life of the city.

The Mayor continued, The banquet here tonight does more than just honor the great Negro Christian Leader who because of bigotry founded the African Methodist Episcopal church but it is living proof that the creed of love for fellow man and earnest belief in God which his life can not only withstand time but also the hatred of those who would undermine the equality of man in God's eyes.

Other appearing on the program included; Dr. E. W. Verner, master of ceremonies; Rev. Andrew W. Makhene, invocation, Mrs. Bernice Coppock Johnson and Mrs. Iola M. Woodard.

Others participating in the program were, Mrs. Marion P. Murrill, Dr. Archibald J. Carey Jr. of Chicago, Darlene Gayles and Alexander Shaw representing the New Jersey Council of Churches.

Bishop Keeps Any Rights Image Out Of His Program

CHICAGO — New Orleans' newly appointed Negro Roman Catholic Bishop Harold R. Perry has "no desire to work directly as a civil right leader," Ebony magazine.

reveals the February issue of "Within the next ten years our major racial problems will be solved," Bishop Perry predicts in Ebony -- and he thinks they can be solved successfully "without physical violence or mental harassment."

He given a major share of the credit of President Johnson.

Johnson is "greater than Kennedy" in the area of civil rights, says Bishop Perry in his statement.

"The fact that he is a southerner helped his accomplish many things in the field of civil rights that no other president could. He was greater than Kennedy, but Kennedy laid the

"DOC" WILSON THE MAN WHO KNOWS

Dear Doc' Wilson:

I have been waiting patiently for my order over two weeks. When will I hear from you.

Answer:

You would never have heard from me if you hadn't sent this letter. When you placed your order you sent this letter with no name and no return address. The enclosed money order was blank. You did not fill it out. You included two small notes and neither held your signature. All we could do was sit and wait for a new letter so I could compare the handwriting. It finally arrived. We have loads of money here in this office sent by people who do this sort of thing day after day.

"Important"

Please don't send me money unless you know what you are sending it for. This week lone it has cost me $143.00 — We have mailed back over a thousand letters containing two, three, four, five, six dollars and more, because the people who sent it, did not say what they were sending it for. UNDERSTAND ONE THING. If you are not a "Subscriber" — you are like a snowball in the hot house. I can't cure the ills of the entire world but I can be a "crutch" for those who lean my way. Remember these words "THE LORD HELPS THEM WHO HELP THEMSELVES." When you call, wire, or write for all good services, and you have not subscribed; You are not helping me or the newspaper that is sponsoring me, consequently I look in another direction. My job is to serve you, and believe me friends, this Alabama boy is qualified for the job, but as great as I think I am I am nowhere near as great as "you" think I am. For instance, you send me letters and sign them: Love, Alice—Mrs. Jones, Lula Mae, Little Willie, Bessie Lou, Sarah Mae, Miss Brown, Mr. Johnson, with no return address anywhere. Please forgive me for not being greater than I am and help me by giving your full names and your correct whereabouts.

I SALUTE THE POST OFFICE DEPT. for my greatest keepsake. Today I received a letter from a very confused person, addressed to Doc' Wilson, TR6-6337 — 10035 Pittsburgh, New York — The lady has a very sick sister in Pa. that's why Pittsburgh was on her mind. She wanted help that's why the Doc' Wilson was correct. — Why she put my telephone number on the envelope instead of my address, I'll never know, but she gave Uncle Sam the key message when she used the correct zip code 10035. The Postal Authorities then knew it was N.Y.C. — Harlem section and the telephone number revealed the address. "I'll keep this forever."

Doc' Wilson:

Will you stop my husband from drinking?

Answer:

At his present age I would not work nor stoppage. I'll settle for moderation. Several years ago a lady paid me for the tools to stop her husband from drinking. — She stopped him alright, but he cramped her style by following her around everywhere she went. She got so sick of him being sober, that she offered twice the price to make him a drunk again.

Dear Doc' Wilson:

My home is unhappy. I want to know the woman's name my husband is running around with.

Answer:

You must be listening to one of your 'so-called' good friends, because if you knew for sure that he had an outside association, you would also know her name. Her friends are my friends; and we get along fine. On my side there are a few meddlers. Two white policemen who wouldn't dare come out and say what they really wanted to say, said; "you sho' got a fine brown gal under your wing, but news gets around so you had better be careful. At my club the other night, a big city official threw this hint. He said: you are growing in leaps and bounds, don't you think you ought to get married so you can present your lady. I said, I've been thinking about that. Now listen to me Doc. I will never leave my business, and I don't intend to let any force make me leave her. We love each other. How can I keep her and my business? After all, plenty of them down here are doing the same I'm doing, but they are not as sincere.

Dear Doc' Wilson:

Can you bring my lover back home? I miss him so, you'll never know.

Answer:

If you knew what to do you wouldn't have lost him in the first place.

Dear Doc' Wilson:

Will you take this jinx off me and put it on the one who gave it to me.

Answer:

Doing evil for evil, never did work out. If you can get rid of whatever you've got — be happy — and let well enough alone.

"LIGHTHOUSE"

(58) (80)

Dear Doc' Wilson:

My home was once happy. Why is it a hell-hole now?

Answer:

Quit listening to your mother, your sister and brothers, along with your other so-called friends, and concentrate on trying to please your husband.

Dear Doc' Wilson — Englewood:

Will you be in Newark any time soon! I know you have just had a hard trip through Georgia and Florida, and rest is most likely what you need, and I hope you get it. By-the-way, the 349 came 394 and caught me off guard, but not completely. The 764 was a gentleman. It walked both ways with dignity. When you come to Jersey this time you'll be mobbed so kindly

Answer:

There are no special appointments. I will be in Newark at the Masonic Temple 164 Belmont ave. Saturday February 19th from 10:30 a.m. until 3 p.m. — one thing is for sure; If I don't get some rest soon, I will need, or can use all of this Graveyard Dirt I have on hand for myself.

Dear Doc' Wilson — White Plains:

I have followed you from paper to paper for ten years more. I have enjoyed your writings in the past, and I'm sure I can enjoy them more now. I mentioned now because I am an invalid. A good chuckle or a belly laugh is the best medicine you can get that's way I need you and your words. "WHEN ARE YOU GOING TO WRITE A BOOK?" — I'm certain, it will bring joy to millions.

Answer:

The book I am writing now should be ready before September if I can find time to finish it. The title will be "DAMN SAM."

Dear Doc' Wilson — Georgia:

I came a long way to see you in Moultrie, Ga. When I arrived you had more than fifty people waiting in front of me. I counted sixteen white people mixed in with all the others, so this kept me from feeling alone as I too, am white. I knew I would never see you, so I drove back to a local hotel and wrote this letter. I am enclosing a double fee for your services, so contact me any way you wish, just don't print my name and the city where I live.

Doc' Wilson, I am a white man, age 39, who is madly in love with a young colored woman 29. We have been together seven years. In my city, I am a very successful businessman, and she doesn't have to worry the trustees for resigning. Regarding the ordinance he said, "I did not vote for it." Hardwick said that different foundations that donate monies to centers like Friendship House would not donate funds if it were city-controlled.

Two sites have been mentioned for the Center. One is a small corner of land at Hill street and South Center street in the East Ward. The other is a part of the playground on Central avenue opposite the high school.

The latter site, although not located in the East Ward where it is felt the need is greatest, is centrally located as far as the city is concerned. It is claimed by a spokesman that there would be room for the building on the site.

Dr. Scott said that the city's role in the building of the center would be to provide the site and that the building would be done by private groups. He said that the city's role would be to provide the site and that the building would be done by private groups.

Dr. Scott declared that Friendship House was the only year round building that the city has for recreation and that no one has been making any place for any interim program to be carried on elsewhere.

"Nobody knows when the building will be torn down. When it is torn down, then what" he asked bitterly.

Various organizations including the Kiwanis, Merchants, Victoria Foundation Turrell Fund have contributed to the Friendship House in the past but, according to Dr. Scott, they will not give to an institution that is run by a city or state.

The Friendship House is operated now by the City Recreation Department.

Housing Bias To Fall Under 1964 Rights Law

WASHINGTON — According to the report of a private research agency issued last week the Government is now armed with a stronger and more comprehensive law for banning racial discrimination in the sale and rental of housing than that proposed by President Johnson.

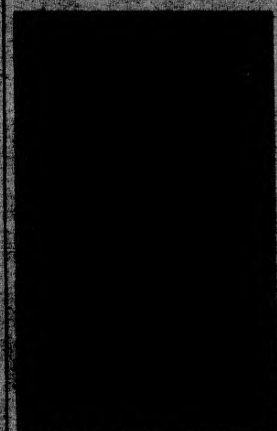

The Potomac Institute said the Administration had the authority and the obligation to move against discrimination in both private and public housing under Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964.

Title VI says in part: "No person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be subjected to discrimination under any program or activity receiving Federal financial assistance."

The provision has been used to require the desegregation of public housing. It also has been used to require the desegregation of private housing. The provision has been used to require the desegregation of private housing.

There are bound to be innumerable new faces in the American League when the season gets under way . . . one new face will be Emmett Ashford of the American League umpire corps. The 40 year old Ashford will be the first Colored American umpire in major league baseball—like Jackie Robinson he'll be a ball blazer. Ashford will be no stranger to some of the players since he worked for 14 years in the Pacific Coast League and prior to that umpired in the Northwest-International League, the Arizona-Texas League and the Western League. Being the first Colored umpire in major league baseball is a big deal.

When Ashford comes to the city, he will be met by a lot of fans. Ashford said, "There's a lot to be learned about baseball being a man's game, but there is a lot of big in those who play the game. This game is a game of fun. We're excited, whether you're umpiring or playing. All umpires have styles and dog-eared I'm glad that the major league officials didn't tell me to alter my style. I want to be decisive and colorful . . . that's the only way I can work." It'll be interesting to see the reaction when Emmett Ashford boots his first player out of the game. We think Ashford will click after he has a few weeks' experience.

Farmer Describes Black Nationalism In "Freedom"

NEW YORK — "FREEDOM" A Book in which Black nationalism is pictured as the dominant mood of the Negro masses in the United States today says author James Farmer, who warns white liberals in the pages of his book, "Freedom—When?" that there will be no respite from demonstrations and other forms of direct action until full equality is achieved.

The national director of the Congress of Racial Equality is leaving the organization at the end of this month to become head of the new Center for Community Action Education, Inc. in Washington. The agency will develop job training and literacy programs with Federal and private financing.

"Freedom—When?" is something of a testamentary analysis of the civil rights organization's history, its philosophy of action, a purview of the civil rights struggle against the background of American history, and intimations of the Negro people, mate view of the sentiments and

The book will be published by Random House Feb. 18. It is intended as a prod to the white liberals to shed their illusions and face the realities of the Negroes' aspirations to a rightful place in the American sun.

Sees a Betrayal

"The humiliation and fury that a man feels," Mr. Farmer writes, "when he has been brutally treated are rendered ineffectually biter if he discovers that he has also been betrayed."

"Malcolm X," Mr. Farmer wrote, "had a considerable impact on my own thinking. His own tragically brief career exemplified the best and the worst in the Muslim influences."

"From an uneducated, narcotics-addicted denizen of the New York underworld, Malcolm became an articulate and extraordinarily disciplined spokesman generated man, fascinating and for the Muslims. He was a powerful."

"He spoke with great, if unfocused, lucidity, and he had a following of admirers—some grudging—far wider than is apparent if one simply counts Muslim membership."

Saying that he could not agree with Malcolm's philosophy, Mr. Farmer felt that nevertheless Malcolm's theories of violence were based on historic facts and corresponded to the thinking of many Negroes.

"The white man has been free to bleed and steal for centuries and the Negro has been raped our women and emasculated our sons. We were not even permitted what every other age and society has respected as an apt response—personal revenge."

Mr. Farmer attributed the new revolutionary mood of the Negro people who wish to win their freedom instead of receiving it as a gift from the white man to a number of factors.

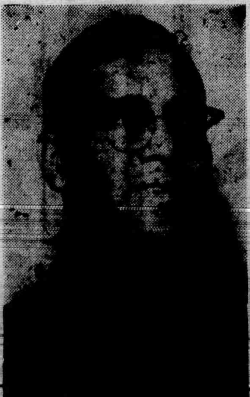

These include the influence of Malcolm X, to whom Mr. Farmer paid tribute for contributing to the awakening self-consciousness of the Negro people, although Mr. Farmer said that he did not agree with the late Black Muslim leader on many points.

Other factors, he said, are pride of achievement in the civil rights struggle and the search for "black identity."

Other contributors to this awakening self-consciousness are the new generation of Negro writers—James Baldwin, Ossie Davis, John Williams, John Oliver Killens and Louis Lomax.

New and stronger alliances between Negroes and other groups in the community are the next great need of the civil rights movement, the AMERICAN JEWISH COMMITTEE states in a lead article titled "The Negro Revolution: Act II"

Recalling that non-violence has sporadically given way to riots, the article declares that "like labor in the 1930's, Negroes today can succeed only in concert with groups having related interests: part time voting, unions bent on gaining members, corporations looking for new markets or talents, religious and ethnic organizations seeking a significant social role, the white poor longing for security and dignity — and citizens who simply want a better society."

The article points out: "As yet, not many Negroes appear to disappear of America. Responsible leaders still control the movement." But it suggests that "relations between Negroes and their allies are strained," and adds a recent warning by Charles E. Silberman, Fortune editor and member of the American Jewish Committee's Civil Rights and Civil Liberties Committee, that the nation would do well to "beware the day they (the Negroes) change their minds."

A basic modification in concepts of equal opportunity is also vital, the article continues, as well as a willingness by Americans to face the high costs of its fulfillment. It indicates that "opening certain occupations to all will not help Negroes who have been kept from gaining experience. 'Equality' . . . can be achieved only by hiring according to potential ability, plus special training," it declares.

In analyzing the costs of full equality, the article quotes Morris B. Abram, president of the American Jewish Committee and co-chairman of the recent White House Planning Conference on Civil Rights, that "prejudice and wrong always create debts which carry a compounding and usurious rate of interest" in public expenditures and wasted human resources.

The American Jewish Committee, now marking its 60th birthday, is this country's pioneer human relations organization. It combats bigotry, protects the civil and religious rights of Jews, and advances the cause of human rights for all.

ORANGE FELLOWSHIP HOUSE

Delay On Friendship House of Orange has caused three executives and a trustee to resign from its board of trustees. The delay of fourteen months in the implementation of an ordinance to allow a joint public-private corporation to operate Orange Friendship House brought on the resignation of Dr. Harold Scott, President of the Corporation heading the list. Others were the treasurer Edward Streibridge, Rev. E.H. Schoelmaster, pastor of Grace Episcopal Church and Secretary and board member Benjamin Schackelford. Dr. Scott urged the council to abolish the present set up and cooperate with the body that will provide the service needed.

NOTE: The Friendship House is located in the center of the Negro community of Orange. The Board members in a letter to the council and mayor Nicholas H. Franco stated that from the beginning they felt the center should be run by a board of citizens with minor representation by city government."

NEWARK — "If you have reached age 65 and are not receiving social security or railroad retirement benefits and

"We are especially trying to reach two groups of people right now. One group includes those over age 65 who have not applied for social security retirement benefits because their earnings are too high to permit cash payments. These people can have Medicare protection by applying for it."

the citizens of the South Ward regarding Negro candidates.

It was pointed out by members and many persons attending the candidates' night meeting that it was imperative that the race must now look to the naming of Negroes to office who have prepared themselves in life to serve and be able to take a stand on all issues as any other candidate of other race groups. It was pointed out that Payne was one of Newark's own young men who had prepared himself in life.

Although the Municipal election is non-partisan Mr. Harris injected partisan politics into the campaign by stating "I am a Republican and we have some outstanding liberal people in our party." The freeholder cited Governor Wallace as an example of the type of people that are democrats.

Payne pledged to fight for better school conditions, a swimming pool in the South Ward, improved housing conditions, and to fight to keep Route 78 out of the ward.

During the question and answer period, Mr. Harris was asked why he would run against another Negro when he already was a county official. He was told that it was an injustice to all of the people for him to give up that post when all of the people that fought hard for him to be elected. The Republican freeholder was told that he was hurting the chances for Negro progress.

In endorsing Payne, the Group strongly recommended that Mr. Harris withdraw from the race as candidate for Councilman for South Ward and support Payne for the post.

Mr. Payne's civil rights and community activities have included National Chairman of the Youth Division of the NAACP, board member of the Newark Board of Education.

We further urge all citizens of New Jersey to take positive action by not attending this affair where endorsement is weighed by the exploitation of the South African black labor for profit, and by financially contributing to a system of apartheid which denies the black South African the franchise protection of labor unions, equal education, civil rights, civil liberties and basic human dignity.

Cong. Minish Seeks Benefits For Newark

WASHINGTON—In introducing legislation known as the Demonstration Cities Act of 1966, Congressman Joseph G. Minish, 11th District, New Jersey, declared last week that he would exert every effort to obtain the benefits of the program for Newark.

Minish, a member of the Banking and Currency Committee which will handle the legislation, pointed out that the Cities selected for the Federal aids would be able to make a concentrated attack on urban decay and blight and their concomitant social ills.

"By coordinating physical rehabilitation of sum areas with related programs to eliminate poverty, control crime and improve education," Minish said, "we will have not only the social derelicts but also the taxpayers who are carrying a heavy burden due to ever mounting costs of social ills."

Hearings on the legislation will open February 23 before the Housing Subcommittee of the Banking and Currency Committee. They will run for two weeks.

Calls About Transit Strike

Set Telephone Record Here

The New York Telephone Company said last week that its records showed it had handled upward of 2-million calls concerning problems arising from the 12-day transit strike through a special number, 906-1234, that it had set up for that purpose.

The company's citywide information service answered 1,735,000 questions, which it said was the largest volume of calls dealing with a specific condition in the city's history. The service was introduced four years ago.

Another emergency telephone center, the Mayor's Emergency Control Center, handled 344,106 calls during the period, the company said.

Student Rights Group Holds Annual Fund Raising Dinner

NEW YORK — The Student Non Violent Coordinating Committee—SNCC—heralding its 6th year as the communications and coordinating arm among Civil Rights protest groups and currently involved with the voter registration drive in the South, will hold its annual fund raising dinner at the New York Hilton Hotel, Sunday March 20th.

The function, a one hundred dollar per person affair will present a special program of entertainment, produced and directed by Himan Brown and featuring such stellar names as Sidney Poitier, Harry Belafonte, Lena Horne and Diahann Carroll. The proceeds from the evening, expected to draw 1500 participants, will go towards sustaining freedom schools and voter registration drives in Mississippi, Alabama and other sectors of the deep South.

The two co-chairmen of the function, are Mrs. Harry Belafonte, and Diahann Carroll. Committee members include Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alan Arthur, Richard Avedon, Donald Brooks, Mrs. Sybil Christopher, Mr. and Mrs. Melvin Douglas, Mr. and Mrs. Chaim Gross, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Kheel, Mrs. Bess Meyerson and Honorable and Mrs. William F. Ryan.

The affair has been dedicated to the memory of Sammy Younge, the first SNCC worker to be killed in the Civil Rights struggle. The theme of the evening is based on a line from the words of Victor Hugo: "There is no power on earth greater than an idea whose time has come."

The evening will be totally devoid of speechmaking or other forms of fund raising, but will concentrate on the entertainment program featuring the above named stars and a regular program of dining and dancing. All funds raised will be utilized from the cost of the $100 per plate admission.

The SNCC, born out of the history making sit-in movement that erupted across the South in the Spring of 1960, is currently working towards enlightening and educating the many Negroes in the South, building indigenous leadership within communities and generally planning a program of direct action and guidance within the framework of the Civil Rights struggle.

MEANS NAMED DIR. NEGRO COLLEGE FUND

NEW YORK, N.Y. — The appointment of Robert L. Means as assistant director of fund raising for the United Negro College Fund was announced last week by James W. Bryant, executive vice president of the Fund.

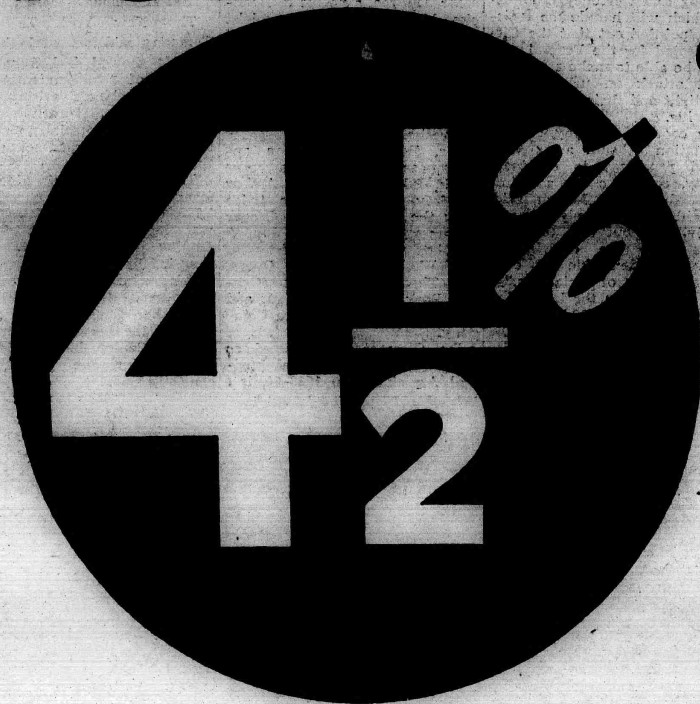

In his announcement, Mr. Bryant declared: "The appointment of Mr. Means as a key member of the UNCF staff will strengthen the organization's overall fund raising program on behalf of its member colleges, and will enable the Fund to extend its campaign efforts in a number of new communities where volunteer workers desperately need professional guidance."

Prior to joining the Fund, Mr. Means was divisional director of the National Fund for Medical Education, and an associate in public relations for the Institute of Logopedics, Wichita, Kansas. He was graduated from Harvard College in 1949, and served in the United States Marine Corps from 1943 to 1946.

Through its annual nationwide appeal, the Fund provides educational opportunities for nearly 32,000 students enrolled in 33 member institutions. Funds derived from the 1966 campaign will be used to help meet operating costs and to bolster scholarship programs for more than 16,000 needy students.

Reparations Voted in Bonn — The West German Parliament completed action last week on 1966-67 compensation payments to victims of the Nazis. A total of $475-million was appropriated for each year for both old and new claims.
